THE GOOD OLD TRAIN.

The people's train 's coming, I hear the locomotive Shrick To,go to the Great Western Clothing, House, And buy clothing down so cheap.

I hear the bell and whistle, As she drags along the train; She's plying all her steam and power To reach Number 227 Main. She has HARRY COHN'S banner, The motio's new and old; "Bargafias in spring suits" are its letters, Now ready to be sold.

She's nearing now a station— Oh, clothing seekers, don't be vain, But come and buy your clothing From Number 227 Main.

The clothes are cheap, and ready To examine and compare; No shoddy goods you'll find on the train. And low in price—W's fare.

So, try and make a little halt At the Great Western Clothing House For she gives all a living chance To save your dollar and your dime.

Fairmount. We would like to call the attention of the public to the advertisement of this excellent school for young ladies. It is under the care of Mrs. M. L. Yerger and Mrs. H. B. Kells, and is situated upon Sewance mountain, between the University of the South, on the one hand, and Beersheba Springs, on the other. Here pupils enjoy the picturesque scenery of the Cumberland range, and drink in new life with the most health-giving atmosphere in the world, and with the pure freestone wa-ters of that section; while for those who need them, chalybeate springs bubble cool and sparkling everywhere. In point of situation, few schools of our land enjoy so many advantages. The scholastic year of this institution is from the middle of March to the middle of December, thus giving girls the privilege of spending their summers away from our malarial districts, and enabling them to pass their vacations at home in the winter, when it is safe to return. the American:

Washington, March 6, 1877.

There are about forty Tennessee Republicans in Washington. At a meeting last night it was determined among them to call on President Hayes. They sent a committee, composed of Messrs. Hal. L. Gosling, T. H. Reeves and Judge Freeman, to make arrangements for the call. President Hayes heard them, and received the full delegation. They were delighted with the reception, and are profuse in their waises of the reception. are profuse in their praises of the reception. The President received them, and spoke pleasantly to each and all, hearing suggestions about each county's vote. He said he naturally looked to the vote of Rutherford, and was struck with its figures. It having been announced that Senator key was tendered the postoffice de-partment, Mr. Thornburg was violent in opposition, and went so far as to write a protest, which he sent to President Hayes, and afterward emphasized it by personal op-position. The President called in Stanley Matthews and Congressman Foster, of Ohio, who were consulted. Subsequently Messrs. Gosling, Reeves, Gibson and others, saw the losling, Reeves, Gibson and others saw the President, and made a strong counter state ment to that of Mr. Thornburg. They as sured the President that the Tennessee Re-publicans would stand by him in his efforts to bring peace and good will among both par-ties in the south. Mr. Reeves presented a paper from the Republican members of the Tennessee legislature, and Mr. Gosling reminded the President that only a few weeks ago the Republicans in the Tennessee legislature gave Key a solid vote. He assured him that the same unanimity would be given him Judge Key arrived to-night, and the President has said that his appointment would de-pend on the conference to-night. His ap-

Nashville American, Sunday: Mr. John-m's bill, granting certain powers to purorporation of such purchasers, was passed in third reading, yesterday, in the house. The bill provides that purchasers of railroads under mortgage sales shall have the power to operate the road and be entitled to all the privileges and franchises of the original in-corporators, except that nothing in the bill is to be construed so as to exempt these railoads from State, county or municipal taxa-ion. There has been, and is now, a diversity opinion among the legal profession in This bill confers upon barchasers the tran thise of the communion, and gives them : the rights, privileges, etc. of the original neorporators under their charters of inerpurnition, except as the original incorpo-ators have forfeited, and their right to exmption from taxation. The State of Ten-essee has a first mortgage on the Missis-ippi Central railroad to the amount of one andion one hundred and ninety-nine thou-and dollars, and, should the bill become a which holds the third mortgage bonds of the Mississippi Central, will become the pur-chaser of that road and pay off the mortgage held by the State.
